Absentee Voting

It's your right!

VOTE ABSENTEE!

All states permit voters who will be outside of their home county to vote absentee, as well as voters with an illness or disability who know ahead of time that they won't be able to make it to the polls.

Some states require an excuse to vote absentee, and some do not.

- illness
- disability
- senior citizens
- travel
- emergency
- confined to hospital

Mail-in Voting

- Eight states—California, Colorado, Hawaii, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Vermont and Washington and the District of Columbia—allow all elections to be conducted entirely by mail.
- Two states—Nebraska and North Dakota—permit counties to opt into conducting elections by mail. Other states allow voting by mail in lieu of voting in-person.

Union Contract Guarantees up to 4 hours in the Leave Article to Vote!

“The agency should provide up to four hours of administrative leave to vote for the Federal general election day to include early voting.

The administrative leave may be also used to cover travel to and from the employee’s local voting location. An employee may use administrative leave for voting in connection with each covered election event in which the employee participates by voting. Employees are limited to four hours of administrative leave for voting per election event.”

CBA, Article 12: Leave, Section J

Our Collective Bargaining Agreement Guarantees Leave to Vote!

The administrative leave may be also used to cover travel to and from the employee's local voting location. An employee may use administrative leave for voting in connection with each election event in which the employee participates by voting. # Union Contract Guarantees up to 4 hours Leave to serve as Non-Partisan Poll Worker!

“Up to four hours of administrative leave per leave year may be granted to serve as a non-partisan poll worker (including training time) or to participate in non-partisan election observer activities (including training time) for Federal, State, local, Tribal and territorial elections. This leave is in addition to any administrative leave an employee uses to vote.

Employees who request to use administrative leave to serve as a non-partisan poll worker or non-partisan election observer must provide documentation to their supervisor identifying their status with their election jurisdiction.”
